Probe of Georgia U. Riots Set

Negroes' Attorney Asks Reversal of School Suspension

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A legal move seeking readmission of two Negro students to the University of Georgia was planned today as the FBI and the Georgia Legislature opened separate investigations into rioting on the university campus.

The students were suspended following an anti-integration demonstration in which stones and firecrackers were thrown and police used tear gas. They were taken from the campus at Athens early yesterday and returned to their homes in Atlanta.

Constance Motley, an attorney for Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, promptly asked the U.S. District Court in Macon to reverse the suspension.

Overrules Oral Motion

In overruling her oral motion, U.S. Dist. Judge W. A. Bootle suggested a written motion be filed. The judge conferred with Mrs. Motley and attorneys for the state and then said court would reconvene at 2 p. m., today.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers disclosed in Washington the Justice Department was "initiating a preliminary investigation of reported mob action at the University of Georgia to ascertain whether or not federal law violations occurred."

The Georgia House of Representatives named a special five-man subcommittee to begin hearings in Athens today to check conflicting reports and rumors of recent happenings at the university.

House Speaker George L. Smith II said in a statement he was confident the subcommittee would "neither whitewash the event nor engage in a return."

Ask Students Return

More than half the 600 members of the Georgia faculty Thursday night unanimously adopted a resolution saying, "We insist that the two suspended students be returned to their classes."

The resolution also urged "all measures necessary to the protection of students and faculty and to the preservation of orderly education be taken by appropriate state authorities."

Fifty student leaders began circulating petitions protesting violence and urging "decisive action" by university officials.

These developments in the state's week-old integration crisis occurred shortly after Judge Bootle issued a far-reaching decision invalidating that portion of Georgia's appropriations act which bans use of tax monies for support of an integrated public school or college.

Continues Injunction

The judge continued in effect an injunction granted Tuesday against Gov. Ernest Vandiver and other state officials which had kept them from closing the university by cutting off funds.

The governor had no comment on the federal order. But he made it clear at a news conference he had no plans to help Miss Hunter and Holmes return to classes at the university.

Bob Kennedy Faces Senate Group Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Republican needling—but no serious challenge—appeared to be in store today for Attorney General-designate Robert F. Kennedy.

Kennedy, 35, a brother of President-elect John F. Kennedy, goes before the Senate Judiciary Committee for a hearing on his selection to direct the Justice Department's far-flung law enforcement activities.

None of the committee's Republicans said they intended to oppose Robert Kennedy's appointment or try to obstruct Senate confirmation.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a committee member, said Republicans plan extensive questioning to compile a record to which they can point if Kennedy later stumbles.

The hearing on Kennedy, probably the most controversial of any of the new Cabinet appointments, was called in advance of official submission of his nomination.

Other Senate hearings were called today on Orville L. Freeman to be secretary of agriculture, Arthur J. Goldberg to be secretary of labor, Abraham A. Ribicoff to be secretary of welfare and Stewart L. Udall to be secretary of the interior.

Ohio GOP Seeks Repeal Of '59 Democratic Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some of the legislative battles fought two years ago seem scheduled for repeat performances in the coming months of this year's session.

Republicans already have introduced several bills to repeal acts of the Democratic-dominated General Assembly of 1959.

One such repealer offered by Rep. D. O. Taber, R - Gallia, would strip from the Highway Department the right to borrow trust-fund money for advance purchase of right of way. The 1959 session gave the department authority to borrow from various state retirement funds and from the trust fund of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation.

The Taber repealer was offered Thursday just before weekend adjournment. The House is scheduled to meet again at 7:30 p.m. and the Senate at 8 p.m. Monday. Another flock of bill introductions is expected then.

Another repealer already in the works is one which would junk the new Department of Industrial and Economic Development, reduce it to the division status it had before 1959 and put it back under control of the Ohio Department of Commerce.

Companion measures offered by Rep. Edmund G. James, R-Noble, Thursday offered cities two new avenues of taxation through which they could solve some of their own money problems.

One of the James measures would permit cities to levy a special tax—as high as 3 per cent—on gas, electric, telephone and water bills. The other would permit cities to require a special auto license—

Uruguay Expels Red Envoys

Charges Involvement In Demonstrations

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—The Uruguayan government has ordered the Cuban ambassador and the Soviet Embassy's first secretary out of the country, charging they were connected with pro-Castro demonstrations and street fights.

The expulsion order was voted Thursday night by Uruguay's 9-man governing council, which reportedly is split 5-4 against an outright break in diplomatic relations with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

The decision declaring Cuban Ambassador Mario Garcia Irujo and Soviet First Secretary Mikhail K. Samoilov persons non grata brought still another demonstration by admirers of Castro. A crowd of about 4,000 gathered in Montevideo's streets, shouting "Cuba yes! Yankees no!"

A force of 1,500 police wearing steel helmets prevented any violence. The governing council acted after police stormed into Communist headquarters here Wednesday, and arrested 139 persons and seized documents.

Officials said the raid was on a judge's order to arrest persons who beat an anti-Castro partisan to death in front of the headquarters. So far no one has been charged with the death.

The man was killed in a fight that spread over 20 blocks Tuesday night when about 1,000 Castro adherents tried to break up an anti-Castro rally of about 3,000. Scores were injured.

The pro-Castro demonstrations have been building up here while the government debated whether to break relations with Cuba. In addition to the United States, Peru, Guatemala and the Dominican Republic have cut their diplomatic link with the Castro regime. Haiti, Nicaragua, Paraguay and Colombia have called their ambassadors home from Havana. Castro repeatedly has urged that the masses in other Latin American countries adopt his revolutionary tactics.

East Liverpool Man Killed In Florida

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—A 62-year-old Ohio man was struck by a truck and killed today as he walked on U.S. 1 north of here. The Highway Patrol identified him as William W. Hatcher, 404 Elm St., East Liverpool. The driver of the truck, Marvin Forbes of Jacksonville, said he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car and did not see Hatcher, who was on the pavement.

Faces Red Accusation on Congo

Dag Returns for U.N. Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld flew back from Africa today to answer Soviet charges that he helped Belgium organize an attack on pro-Lumumba forces in the Congo from the neighboring U.N. trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi.

After visits to the Congo and South Africa, Hammarskjöld abandoned plans to go on to India and hurried back for the continuation of council debate on the Congo.

The council began debate Thursday on a Soviet complaint that Belgium helped troops of Col.

Joseph Mobutu, the Congo army chief, mount an attack from Ruanda-Urundi Jan. 1 against troops holding the Congo's Kivu Province for Mobutu's prisoner, deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba. The Lumumbist rebels repelled the attack.

Diplomatic sources said they expected Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic to submit a resolution critical of the Belgian action.

They said the resolution would be drawn to attract the largest possible vote and would be milder than the demands Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin made to the council Thursday. Zorin said the council should condemn Belgium as an aggressor, ask it to withdraw all Belgian military and civilian personnel from the Congo and request the General Assembly to give urgent consideration to (1) depriving Belgium of its trusteeship over Ruanda-Urundi and (2) granting the territory immediate independence.

A Soviet government statement circulated to U.N. members said Belgium and "gangster Mobutu" organized aggression against the Congo from Ruanda-Urundi "with Dag Hammarskjöld's assistance."

Laotian Planes Lash Out Anew

Pound Rebel Troops In Battle Region

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian government's four newly acquired planes from the United States pounded the pro-Communist rebels' artillery positions 70 miles north of Vientiane today for the third straight day.

No reports were available so far on the damage but military experts said the Laotian pilots—trained in France and Thailand—probably would need more of flying to sharpen their aim.

So far there was no sign of air retaliation from the Soviet Union Communist China or North Vietnam, which support the Pathet Lao rebels. But Western intelligence sources reported an old model Soviet spotter plane, was observed directing rebel artillery fire on Monday, the day before the United States delivered the four propeller-driven trainer planes the government forces are using.

Use of the planes for attack missions raised fears among British and French diplomats here that the Soviets or Red Chinese would supply combat planes for use against the anti-Communist forces.

The planes were reported attacking in the area of the Sam Lue River, 70 miles north of Vientiane, where two companies of government forces were reported engaged with a rebel force of about the same size.

Army sources said Premier Boun Oum's government is applying steady pressure on this front in an effort to link up with government units pushing down from Luang Prabang, the royal capital.

Mayors Favor Rt. 62 Change Inside County

The Columbiana County Mayors Association, at a meeting Thursday night at Lisbon, went on record urging that the State Highway Department in its plans to relocate Route 62 near Salem, keep the highway inside Columbiana County.

The mayors adopted their resolution, introduced by Mayor Dean Cranmer, after the Salem mayor explained the three proposed relocation paths and said he favored the southerly route as against two northerly paths, both of which would be in Mahoning County.

The project report by a professional engineering firm was made public recently by the State Highway Department. It calls for the eventual relocation of Route 62 in both the Salem and Alliance areas. Both the northern and southern relocation suggestions would have the highway intersecting with the Lake-to-River Road.

The Mayors Association meeting last night was presided over by Mayor Ralph Kennedy of Lectoria, president, who reported on the county civil defense organization.

Other mayors attending were Bert Goodballe of Lisbon, William Shoub of Wellsview, Dean Stockman of Lisbon, E. L. Calvin of Columbiana, Don Vignon of Washingtonville and Ernest Phillips of Summitville.

Board Lets Crestview Equipment Contracts

Contracts for new equipment for Crestview High School were awarded at Thursday night's meeting of the Fairfield-Waterford school board in the New Waterford building. Wayne Rupert, the new president, presided.

Contracts were awarded to the Bowling Green Co. to furnish equipment in the home economics department of the new school for the amount of $6,925 and to the Kimmel Products Co. of New Castle for 230 study top combination desks for $3,392.50.

The school, nearly half-completed, is expected to be finished by May or June and ready for occupancy for the beginning of classes in September.

A bond issue for $590,000 was voted for construction and equipment of the edifice, for which the J. A. Rader Co. of Dover is general contractor. Firestone Electric Co. of Salem and Whisler Plumbing and Heating Co. of Massillon are the other contractors. Robert Beatty of East Liverpool is the architect.

The board set the salary of clerk Ralph Elliott at $2,600, an increase of $300 over last year, and the

Heart Fund Campaign In County Set

Columbiana County Heart Council held its kick-off dinner for the Feb. 26 Heart Fund drive Thursday evening in Wick Hotel, Lisbon.

Sidney C. Porter Jr. of East Liverpool, presided at the business meeting and introduced the speakers. James F. Sandmann of Columbus, assistant executive director of Ohio Heart Fund Association and Mrs. Dorothy Walls of Youngstown, executive secretary of Columbiana - Mahoning - Trumbull Counties Heart Fund Association.

Mr. Sandmann spoke on the "Heart Story" and showed a film of volunteers working on Heart Sunday.

Mrs. Walls announced that beginning Wednesday, there will be an office for the Heart Association open in Lisbon Monday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The office will be located at the corner of Market and Park Sts.

Mrs. Walls reported that there are 20 heart patients in this area attending heart clinics last year, compared to 4 the year before.

Mr. Porter named the following committee chairman, who will give reports of the coming drive at the April 13 meeting at 8 p.m. in the Wick Hotel:

Perry Township, including Salem, Howard Smith, chairman of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce Heart Fund committee; Salem Township, including Leetonia, Harold Milliken, RD 3, Salem; Butler Township, Mrs. Herbert Hanna of RD 2, Salem; Center Township, including Lisbon, Thomas Kastner, chairman of

Senators Hear Rusk Testimony On Global Aims

Kennedy Announces He Will Retain Two Eisenhower Officials

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy confers today with the new administration's secretary of state, Dean Rusk, on foreign policy problems and organization matters.

Rusk flew to Palm Beach Thursday night after indicating in Washington, in testimony to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that the Kennedy regime plans no immediate sharp departures in dealing with trouble spots around the globe.

Kennedy and Rusk scheduled a morning meeting and a luncheon session at the president-elect's ocean-front home.

Kennedy announced he is retaining two Eisenhower administration officials.

Joseph Charyk will continue to serve as undersecretary of the Air Force.

Thomas D. Morris, now an assistant director of the Budget Bureau, will be assistant secretary of defense for supply and logistics.

The president-elect Thursday night chose Edward Gudeman, Chicago investment banker, to be undersecretary of commerce.

Gudeman, 54, is a former vice president and at present a director of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Last year he became a general partner in the investment banking firm of Lehman Brothers. He is a graduate of Harvard College.

Questioned By Senators In his Washington testimony, Rusk was questioned by senators about his views on Red China, Cuba, summit conferences, American fliers being held by the Soviet Union, and U.S. relations with the nation's allies.

Indications are Rusk will have clear sailing in winning Senate confirmation of his nomination, which Kennedy will formally submit after taking office a week from today.

On Communist China, Rusk said he sees no present prospect of the United States establishing normal diplomatic relations with the Red regime. But he said, "The presence in mainland China of a large and powerful force is

State Auditor To Speak at GOP Dinner

The appearance of State Auditor James A. Rhodes as the speaker at a Lincoln Day dinner to be sponsored by the Columbiana County Republican Central Committee was confirmed Thursday night by Ernest U. Whitacre of Salem, county GOP chairman.

The dinner honoring county Republicans elected at the Nov. 7 election will be held at Lisbon Methodist Church, Thursday, Feb. 23, at 6:30 p.m.

Discussion of preliminary plans for the dinner was held at last night's meeting of the county GOP committee at Lisbon Village Hall.

Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon was appointed chairman of arrangements for the dinner. Pike said tickets will be available from any member of the central committee.

At Mr. Whitacre's request, Pike read a letter to the more than 100 in attendance from Vice President Richard M. Nixon in which the latter expressed his gratitude for efforts made in his behalf during the recent president's campaign.

The committee urged those who intend to file for the Republican primary in May for village and municipal offices to keep in mind the last filing date is Feb. 1.

Plans and Problems -- 5

Two-Phase Program to Help Farmers Planned by Kennedy

Editor's Note—President-elect John F. Kennedy has promised vigorous action to increase the farmer's income. How will he go about fulfilling this pledge and others to aid urban centers? Here's a review of the broad shape of Kennedy's probable attack on problems of the farm and city last in a series of five on policies of the new administration.

By OVID MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has promised to help farmers attain a higher level of prosperity and to assist city dwellers in coping with mushrooming municipal problems.

But the new team will get to work quicker on problems of farmers than those of their city cousins.

Orville L. Freeman, former governor of Minnesota, will take over the Department of Agriculture, with its vast system of field offices and farmer committees, on Jan. 20.

Better Days Coming

One of his first steps is expected to be assurance to farmers that they can look for better days before the year is out.

Insofar as the cities are concerned, it may take more time to develop a coordinated assistance program to solve complex problems of slum clearance, mass transportation, urban planning, sewage disposal, juvenile delinquency and education. The Democratic platform promised city folk a seat on the president's Cabinet and Kennedy has endorsed a special report by urban experts calling for creation of a Cabinet-level department for urban affairs. However, no time schedule was indicated. The post would require approval by Congress.

The attack on the farm problem is expected to have two phases. One would greatly broaden measures to increase consumption of agriculture's super-abundant production both at home and abroad. The other would tighten government controls on farm production—in cases approved by farmers—to help prevent excessive output. Kennedy has said that abundant farm production—now represented by huge surplus stocks—would be regarded as a blessing and not as a curse.

The administration is expected to move cautiously in development of its programs. One reason is that much of the Midwestern farm belt voted for Nixon rather than for Kennedy.

Details of the farm program will be developed after a big farm conference of leaders of farmers' own organizations in Washington Jan. 26. This meeting—arranged by Kennedy and Freeman at New York last week—is designed to help the new administration draft policies that would be widely accepted by producers. Some new farm legislation doubtless will be required.

While the details may be lacking, the Kennedy farm goal has been spelled out repeatedly. It is action by the government to enable the family farm to earn incomes on a par with those of other economic groups. Presently, farm income averages considerably below that of nonfarmers. It also is down about a fourth from what it was eight years ago.

Adv for PMS Fri., Jan. 13

To be decided are methods and devices to raise the income level. Both Kennedy and his party's platform proposed use of rigid production controls, higher price supports, production payments to producers and marketing orders and agreements.

These devices have run into sharp opposition from some farm organizations, including the influential American Farm Bureau Federation. The Federation, like the outgoing Eisenhower administration, wants to reduce government's role in agriculture.

The Kennedy farm program could result in somewhat higher food prices for consumers and possibly higher taxes for taxpayers. However, Kennedy has said that this need not be the case. Freeman himself has said the farm program would exploit neither consumer nor taxpayer.

The Kennedy proposals for urban areas contemplates a four-point 10-year improvement program, as follows: (1) federal aid in elimination of slums; (2) federal aid for metropolitan area planning and community facilities development; (3) federal aid for comprehensive metropolitan transportation programs, including bus and rail mass transit, commuter railroads as well as highways and civil airports; and (4) expansion of park systems to meet recreational needs of the growing urban population.

DIMES DRIVE CHAIRMEN—Photographed at a meeting here this week when final plans were made for the March of Dimes drive, now under way, are (l. to r.) E. Allen McKeever of East Liverpool, county director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis; Dr. Harley Thayer of Salem, northern Columbiana County campaign chairman this year; Leslie Brantingham of Salem, city chairman, and John Snyder, Lisbon area chairman. The drive will culminate with a Mothers March on Polio Jan. 31. Mrs. Richard Greene is chairman of this project.

County Jail Had 1,055 Prisoners In 1960

LISBON — The annual report of Sheriff Russell J. VanFoss was released today. The report, presented before a group of 100 figures with 1959 in parentheses.

The county jail had a total of 1,055 prisoners (1,053); 121 (129) juveniles, making an average of 34 (38) prisoners per day who served a total of 11,521 (11,925) days. There were 37,509 (41,797) meals served at a cost of $34.3 ($31.9) per meal.

The department served 3,052 (2,731) civil papers; 299 (265) warrants; 65 (93) indictments covering 15 offenses; held 30 (39) sheriff's sales bringing in a total of $142,338.07 ($109,768.36) and handled 163 (153) executions for a total of $4,735.89 ($13,272.99).

The county jail handled 78,964 (64,149) radio transmissions and received 15,201 (13,866) phone calls. Visitors at the jail during the year totaled 2,072 (2,767).

Sheriff VanFoss states his department transported 22 (27) prisoners to the Ohio State Penitentiary; 13 (28) to the Ohio State Reformatory; five (14) to Lima State Hospital and 41 (34) mental patients to other state institutions. During the year, the sheriff's cars traveled and patrolled a distance of 232,383 (185,035) miles.

Action Delayed on Job Status Of Courthouse Employees

Columbiana County commissioners at their meeting Thursday with only two members present, delayed action on the job status of approximately 15 Courthouse jobholders, appointed by the Democrats when they took over the commissioners office in 1959, until Feb. 1.

Commissioner Walter Hunston, president of the board, said that because of the absence of the other Republican commissioner, Galen Greenisen, he wouldn't make any appointments, as he thought it would be unfair.

The opinion of Prosecutor G. William Brokaw regarding the status of courthouse employees was received and put in the minutes. As the next meeting of the board will not be until Monday, Hunston moved that the present staff should continue through Jan. 31. Frank Wilson, the other board member, seconded the motion.

Commissioner Wilson entered Salem City Hospital last night and expects to be confined there for five to seven days for observation.

In other business the commissioners signed a year's lease with Edward A. and Edith Heim of 892 N. Market St., for storage space of 828 square feet at 529 E. Chestnut St. to house the surplus food department. The building is adjacent to the Heim Sheet Metal Inc. Heim will also furnish a truck and driver at $5 per hour, for the hours necessary to carry on the surplus food program set up in 1959.

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director and head of the county surplus foods program, said he hopes to have the Lisbon location in operation for the regular distribution in February.

At present, the surplus foods warehouse is located in Columbiana and rented from Henry Keck, who also furnished the trucking facilities.

The commissioners will pay $100 a month plus fuel and light at the new location. They paid $75 a month in Columbiana, plus utilities.

TO GET MENTAL TESTS

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Psychiatric examinations have been ordered for two young brothers who admitted the fatal beating of a playmate last month.

Juvenile Court Judge Harry G. Cram stipulated Thursday that the boys, 11 and 9, be taken either to the Children's Diagnostic Center in Columbus or to the Child Guidance Clinic in Dayton. The brothers told police they bludgeoned 7-year-old Thomas Williams last month. His body was found in a Springfield street.

Lisbon Social

Mrs. Edna Ray, the retiring noble grand, was presented a past officer's pin when Caldwell Rebekah Lodge held installation of officers Wednesday night at the Pythian Temple.

Mrs. Virginia Winters, deputy president, was the installing officer and was assisted by Miss Nellie Gillis, Mrs. Ethel Pike, Miss Dora Lones, Mrs. Laura Hadley, Mrs. Kitty Snyder and Mrs. Ida McCullough.

Installed were: Mrs. Mildred Barnes, noble grand; Mrs. Helen Foster, vice grand; Mrs. Bernice Freshley, financial secretary; Miss Thelma Ward, treasurer; Mrs. Snyder, trustee; Mrs. Nena Cresser, right support to the noble grand; Mrs. Evelyn Clapsaddle, left support to the noble grand; Mrs. Lydia Burnip, warden;

Mrs. Sara Andrus, conductor;

Miss Helen Gillis, chaplain; Mrs. Minerva Moser, right support to vice grand; Mrs. Margaret Everett, left support to vice grand; and Mrs. Bertha Whan, inside guardian.

A social hour and lunch followed with Mrs. Clapsaddle, Mrs. Moser and Mrs. Everett as hostesses.

THIRTY-NINE MEMBERS enjoyed a coverdinner Wednesday evening when past matrons and past patrons of Iva Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star held a belated New Year's party in lieu of their regular monthly meeting at the Masonic Temple.

The dining room was decorated in green and white, with ivy plants and green candles in crystal the length of the tables.

Mrs. Leo Capehart, president, conducted a short business meeting. Cards were the evening's diversion, with seven tables at play.

The next meeting will be Feb. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mason of the Lisbon-Columbiana Road were the hosts to the Wednesday Evening Discussion Group at their home, with 18 present. Stanley Kienzle, president, conducted the meeting.

The response to roll call was "I Could Do Without . . ."

Mrs. Mason and her mother, Mrs. Jennie B. Francis, gave a program on "Button Collecting." They gave the history of buttons, showed slides and displayed their collection and scrap book.

The next meeting will be at the Kienzle home on Sunset Drive, on Jan. 25. Miss Ruth Bye will give a book review of "This Hallowed Ground" by Bruce Catton.

THE LISBON EAST END Club was entertained Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Vera Powell of Pritchard Ave.

Two tables of 500 were in play, with prizes going to Mrs. Doris Cusick and Mrs. Elma Metz.

Mrs. Cusick will receive the club Jan. 25 at her home on E. Washington St.

The Jolly Eight 500 Club met on Wednesday night with Mrs. George Jones at her home in Elkton.

Prizes were won by Mrs. John Struthoff, Mrs. Hazel Lee and Mrs. Frank Sturgeon.

Mrs. Lee will entertain Jan. 25.

United School Activities Told To PTA Group

Frank Solak, United High School principal, and sponsors of extra or co-curricular activities held informal discussions on purposes of the activities when United Parent-Teacher Association met recently in the elementary school auditorium.

William Maple, vice president, was in charge, and Rev. John Bortor, pastor of Hanoverton Presbyterian Church, led in prayer.

George Dickson, vocational agriculture teacher, spoke of the Future Farmers Association and its achievements in local, district, state and national contests, demonstrations, exhibitions, and participation in parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. Kathryn Bennett, home economics teacher, spoke of the Future Homemakers of America and its work.

Mrs. Kathleen Johnson, librarian, told how she, two student librarians and 24 high school girls take care of 3,500 books.

The high school annual or Unitas staff, with John Allan as adviser, explained how members of the staff are chosen and described their duties. Mr. Allan also directs the Junior Play each fall.

Mrs. Mary Leatherberry, who has 74 members in the Latin Club, also directs the Senior Play each year.

Each year, at a formal initiation ceremony, each member of the Junior Classical League receives a membership card and pin. A highlight of the club's activities is the annual Roman banquet held near March 15, the Ides of March, on which day Caesar died. The aim of the club is to acquaint the students with the civilization of Greece and Rome. Last year the members saw the movie, "Ben Hur," and this year they will see "Spartacus."

The Student Council, with the adviser, Mr. Solak, forms the government organization and performs an extensive list of duties, it also formulates school rules and policies.

Mr. Solak also explained the activities of the French Club, whose adviser, Mrs. Satterthwait, was absent.

Also in the absence of Mrs. Martha Faloan, he explained the purpose of the Future White Caps Group, which familiarizes girls in interest in nursing careers with the profession.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hart, adviser of the Eagle's Voice, the high school paper which is published on a voluntary basis by the students and the staff.

The Quill and Scroll Society is another group organized at the school.

"United Curriculum," will be presented under the direction of Peter Marra, when the PTA meets Feb. 13 in the school.

ENROLLMENT INCREASES CLEVELAND (AP)—Enrollment in Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio has reached an all-time high with 1,847,075 subscribers in the 11 counties of its area, reports John R. Mannix, executive vice president. Mannix said enrollment as of Jan. 1 was 21,978 higher than on the same date last year.

He said Cleveland, with more than 80 per cent of its residents as subscribers, probably has the greatest concentration of enrollment in the country. The gain was achieved despite an announced increase due next month in seven counties, and despite substantial unemployment in the area, said Mannix.

THE LISBON EAST END Club was entertained Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Vera Powell of Pritchard Ave.

DiSalle On Local Spending

Gov. DiSalle has hit the nail on the head so hard with the right hammer declaring that Ohio should not be a tax collector for local government that even Washington tax collectors may be impressed.

"Give local governments the tools to raise their own finances and they will be in a better position to measure the services they can and will give," says the governor of Ohio. Most of Ohio taxpayers will agree.

Yet many of them will do an about-face and plead with Washington for more of the federal government's tax collections to bail them out.

Gov. DiSalle's own Democratic party has been an enthusiastic supporter of the hand-out plan.

Here in Ohio, where people have working knowledge of what happens to their money, there never has been a clear understanding that something like 40 per cent of everything paid to the state is pumped back to the localities minus handling charges and "breakage."

FOR EVERY 50 MILES that money gets away from the place where it is collected, however, there is about a 2 per cent decline in responsibility for the way it's spent. This also works the other way around.

For every 50 miles that taxing gets away from the place where the taxes are paid there is a 2 per cent decline in control over the way taxes are levied.

In Washington, a proposal to levy more taxes can go through Congress a-whooping with no one to say anything against it but a gaggle of professional lobbyists.

In Columbus, a proposal to levy more taxes gets past the Legislature only after everybody and his brother have had their say and every member of the Legislature has been breathed on by several dozen red-hot constituents.

But back home, a proposal to levy more taxes must be threshed out, fought over and fine-tooth combed fore and aft until everybody is sick of hearing about it. If it can be passed at all, its passage is permitted only to get it out of the way so other business can be taken up.

EVEN IF LOCAL government had all the tools, there still would be difficulty in raising more revenue. Gov. DiSalle is right when he says local government is in a better position to measure what it needs to do and is willing to do. There would be a net reduction in public spending if more money to be spent locally had to be collected locally.

It is not strange, though, that this thing seems so clear in Ohio is not clear at all in Washington, where there is a never-ending itch to scratch up more revenue so more gravy can be ladled back to the states and localities?

Only one conclusion can be reached. Washingtonians lie to feel the money and get satisfaction of doling out money where it will do the most political good. If they destroy local initiative and local responsibility in the process, that's all right with them. They are devotees of big government—the bigger the better.

But in Columbus, where the taxpayers must live closer to taxpayers, there's no fun in feeling money. It's all grief. All the politicians get out of handling it is sour looks for not distributing it to suit localities and individuals within the localities.

Gov. DiSalle, therefore, is in favor of letting Ohioans keep their money at home in the first place. No wonder they haven't asked him to come to Washington.

There Will Be Another 8 Years

How many of us have wondered since the end of the campaign last November what John F. Kennedy's administration will look like if it runs on for eight years?

Our new President-elect, like President Eisenhower, will be limited to two terms. If all goes well with him, he will be doing in 1969 what Mr. Eisenhower is doing now. He will be stepping down from the high place to the level of his common critics and joining them in their inalienable right to judge their leadership.

It was Mr. Kennedy's role in the 1960 campaign to criticize the Eisenhower administration, with Richard Nixon as his immediate target. It was a ticklish job. In 1956 and 1952, the Democratic candidate had no target he could draw a political bead on. Mr. Kennedy had no precedent.

In 1952, Mr. Eisenhower had been a war hero turned statesman—a candidate with no political record. Adlai Stevenson was charming, witty, clever and occasionally statesman. Like But he was no match for a hero then or four years later. Mr. Eisenhower was as unassailable as anyone in a political contest can be.

But in 1960 he could not defend himself to any avail, and Mr. Nixon could not do it for him. Mr. Kennedy exploited this vulnerability ruthlessly. The hero was attacked from all sides.

MR. KENNEDY, it goes without saying, is vulnerable to attack from the outset. Politics in his profession. He has invited all the individual comparisons that will be made between his administration and the Eisenhower administration. That he has done this in awareness of the consequences will not make the consequences easier to bear. In his final message to Congress on the state of the Union, Mr. Eisenhower used the theme that America has had eight good years—not perfect years but good years. The record of his administration, he believes, compares favorably with that of any other eight-year span in history.

Not everything to be desired has been fulfilled. Not all problems have been solved. The Communist gadfly is buzzing louder than ever. There has been peace, but there has been no peace of mind. The state of the Union on the state of the American people have improved, but there is still much to be done. There always has been.

WE HOPE when the time comes for Mr. Eisenhower's successor to make his final report it will sound as good. With due respect to his personal ability and the ability of the citizens he has summoned to his side, Mr. Kennedy is not going to solve any more problems than were solved while Mr. Eisenhower was in the White House. His batting average will be about the same — approximately .237.

That has been the long-term average of all presidents from the beginning. Some have slumped below it; others have gone above it. But only in campaigns do knotty problems get solved offhand. Only in campaigns does the political batter hit one over the fence every time he steps to the plate.

Dwight Eisenhower's batting average was good.

If Mr. Kennedy's is as good at the end of his eight years at bat, the United States will have no complaint. And because he is obviously determined that he shall measure up to the best, chances are there will be no complaints in 1969.

There will have been carpings, second-guesses, jeers and catcalls, to be sure—all the unflattering noises that go with politics. But if John Kennedy can cast as long a shadow in 1969 as Dwight Eisenhower's in 1961, there will be no complaints.

Once Over

Fidel Castro's Day: 1. He wakes in the middle of the night and finds he has not dreamed of an invasion by the United States. He orders immediate investigation with mass arrests.

2. He goes back to bed but can't get to sleep because of extreme disappointment over loss of this dream. Takes a sleeping pill.

3. He goes to sleep but has a dream in which the U.S.A. is his best friend, with no intention of attacking anybody. He issues order to have the druggist who sold him sleeping pills shot.

4. He decides to try dreaming while wide awake. (It ain't hard.) He announces that Americans in force are en route to the beach. A staff member asks, "Are you sure?" He is arrested as unreliable and disloyal.

5. Now he orders all newspapers to come out at once using the same headline, "Yanks at Our Throats." An editor asks if "reported at our throats" would not be better. He is jailed as a counterrevolutionist.

6. Castro announces he will make a three-hour speech saying Yanks will attack Cuba in two hours. There is immediate roundup of Cubans reported as asking, "If the attack is coming in two hours why take three hours to tell us?"

7. He makes three-hour speech describing landings, bombings and street battles. Two generals ask for specific details. They are seized and thrown into Morro Castle dungeons.

8. In the general hysteria he, too, becomes confused and sends demand to the United Nations that Security Council meet at once to ascertain why his hallucinations are not voted on and accepted as calling for U.N.'s support.

DRAFT BOARDS have been ordered to reject any draftee who is color blind. In this age of electronic devices in war, inability to distinguish red from green, for example, can be disastrous. Have you noticed how gals's spring hats imitate Mrs. John P. Kennedy's. Also the hairdo?

Divot diggers feel better now. Arnold Palmer took 12 strokes on one hole in a recent tournament and it's a terrific help to suffer morale.

F. P. . says Castro's first crack each morn is "Where's my daily invasion?"

Jim Reston says that an embassy elevator shaft bears words: "Press to Ascend" and Press to Descend," instead of "UP and DOWN". It's a general trend never to use one simple word when the message can be complicated. For example, take those new thruways where the signs read: "No Crossing Median Line." (Middle) would make it too understandable.)

AT&T has hit new highs on the stock market, scowling people have begun to think the telephone is here to stay. Other stock boosters have been the fact that people call more often than ever, talk longer and have their phone bills run up because of the six little words: Will you hang on a minute?" from most business offices, while the secretary or phone girl files and forgets. It has become common routine for secretaries, etc. to receive inquiry "Is Mr. Jones in?" with blunt reply that he is busy and will you stand by. That often ends contact for what seems hours. All the traditional courtesy of checking to see if you are still alive has gone. Relations are severed with no concern whether the man on the phone is getting nervous prostration, battle fatigue or high blood pressure. The office secretaries and phone office phone girls are a big help to AT&T and should get a cut of the profits.

No Balm for Castro

By JAY G. HAYDEN

The surest thing about President Eisenhower's all-out severance of diplomatic relations with Cuba is that it ended all hope of resuming them so long as Fidel Castro remains in power.

The break is complete and irrevocable and the United States government has no alternative for the foreseeable future but to work for the removal of Castro in favor of a more cooperative Cuban regime.

There is of course the unique circumstance that the break in relations was ordered by President Eisenhower only 13 days before his departure from the White House.

But it can be stated with all but complete certainty that Mr. Eisenhower acted with the tacit approval, if not the outright urging, of President-elect Kennedy.

Just as with President Eisenhower the key problem for his successor will be how to accomplish the elimination of Castro and the now clearly established Communist oligarchy he heads, without stirring up antagonisms within other countries of South and Central America that might prove worse.

Kennedy's effort at first, and perhaps continuing for some time, must be to win the backing of the 19 member nations of the Organization of American States, other than the U.S. and Cuba.

The initial approach by Kennedy no doubt will be to increase the number of members of this organization which have broken relations with Cuba. Those that have formally broken relations with Cuba so far are the U.S., Peru and Dominican Republic. Haiti, Nicaragua, Guatemala and Paraguay have taken the nearly as harsh step of recalling their ambassadors with no hint of their return. Last week Panama withdrew its ambassador for consultation, suggesting that it was close to an outright severance.

First and foremost among the restraining factors influencing other Latin-American countries is their uncertainty regarding where the U.S. is going to stand after Jan. 20, when Kennedy takes over. Obviously there is no reason why anyone abroad should grab for Eisenhower's coat-tail, rather than wait and see what Kennedy will do.

Beyond that consideration, each country has axes of its own to grind, and all of them have the common hope of expanded economic aid from the United States.

President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela, for example, while hard pressed by Communists in his own country, has been more interested in getting rid of President Trujillo of the Dominican Republic than in any other foreign-policy objective.

Brazil, which swears in Jan. 31 a new president, Janio Quadros, had never made its position on the U.S.-Cuban situation crystal clear.

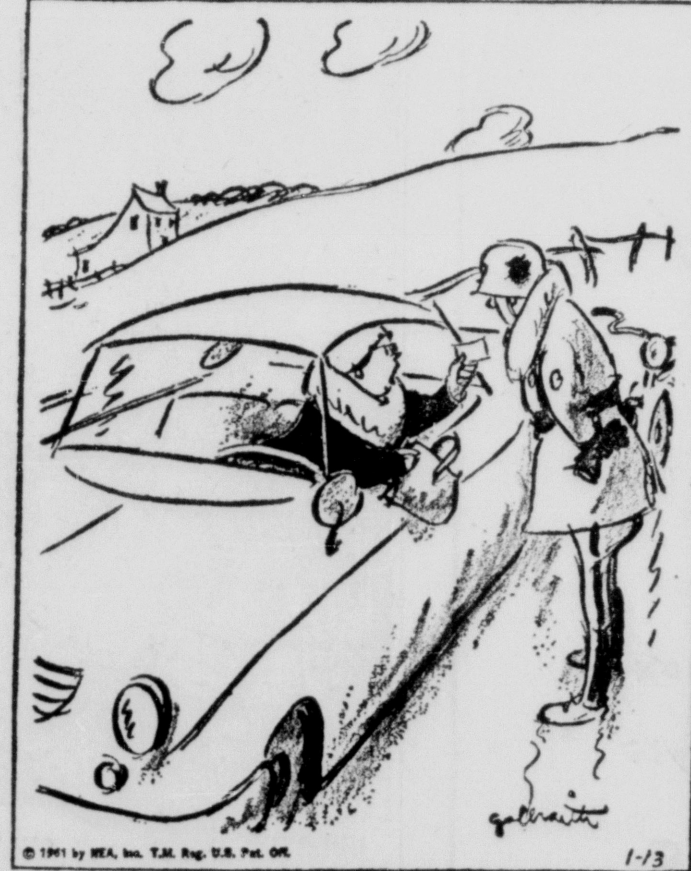

The best guess at the moment is that Kennedy will move first toward increased isolation of Cuba, both politically and economically, within the western hemisphere—hoping that Cubans themselves eventually will do the rest. North American Newspaper Alliance

So They Say

Does this mean that the people are losing confidence in the press? If so, maybe we should wonder why.—Ohio Gov. Michael DiSalle, noting election of John F. Kennedy despite opposition by 80 per cent of newspapers.

We have seen an election which very well have been decided on the way a man appearing on national television influenced many voters by his appearance. It's a marvelous and yet terrifyingly dangerous way to present a candidate to the public.—TV producer Arthur Fellows.

Pressure-Group Politics Behind Filibuster Fight

All the talk about changing the rules to stop filibusters in the Senate or to prevent committees from bottling up legislation in the House, might appear on the surface to be a part of a very weighty problem with deep-seated cleavages that reflect high purposes in the public interest. Actually, back of the whole thing is a good deal of pressure-group politics and the desire of members of the Senate, for example, to make it appear back home, especially in the more populous states in the North, that they are battling hard for civil rights.

The Senate has voted — as it has done again and again in the past — to send the proposals for changing the rules on filibustering back to committee for study. This means that, when it comes up at the end of the present session, the new idea is to require only a 60 per cent instead of 66 2-3 per cent vote to cut off debate. Maybe there will be a compromise along these lines but it is doubtful.

The reason for all the furor about changes in the filibustering rules is that there is an artificial pressure to get more civil rights legislation. The theory is that only the southerners are blocking it but there are western senators, many of them Republicans, who recognize the danger in enacting legislation that takes away from the state more and more of their rights.

The Republican party has only 35 members in the Senate, and they were divided 18 to 15 in the vote to send the new proposals back to a committee for study — just as were the Democrats, who voted 32 to 31 on the same issue. So it isn't a partisan matter.

The hullabaloo about filibustering is, on its face, rather hypocritical. It is made to appear, for example, that only the conservatives are interested in maintaining the rules that allow filibusters.

Actually, many of the so-called liberals have used the filibustering privilege far more than their opponents. They would probably be very much distressed if unlimited debate were really abandoned and gag rule were imposed. The very essence of true liberalism is that free speech must be allowed to run its course.

IN THE HOUSE of Representatives, the situation is somewhat different. The powerful Rules Committee, for example, can for all practical purposes keep legislation from getting to the floor of the House, but a substantial majority can always discharge the committee from consideration of the bill and force it on to the floor for action. This has been done from time to time. But in the House, as in the Senate, there is an effort being made to show the pressure groups that the champions of civil rights and big welfare spending are active and aggressive in their behalf.

The spectacular attack on Rep. William Colmer, D-Miss., who has been threatened with a purge — the loss of his committee post — because he supported independent presidential electors, has not been approved by most of the members of the House.

Indeed, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, who is to be chairman of the House Committee on Labor, bolted the Democratic ticket in 1956 and voted for President Eisenhower's reelection. Again and again members have said they should not be punished on the floor of the House of Representatives for trying to reflect the views of their constituents.

When it comes to the size of the committees, this is a matter over which the House has jurisdiction and it is, in a sense, impersonal. The House can enlarge a committee and "pack" it with members favorable to the desires of the majority. That's what is now being proposed in the House of Representatives in order to override the chairman of the Rules Committee, Howard W. Smith, of Virginia.

Mr. Smith is one of the ablest members of Congress and the only objection that his opponents have to him is that he does not go along with radical proposals.

It is ironical to find liberals who so often pride themselves on their interest in free speech, trying to punish a member who holds views opposite to theirs.

BY "PACKING" the committees of the House with a majority who favor the point of view desired by a particular bloc, the objective in cutting the power of the committee chairman is, to a certain extent, achieved. But it is still unexplained why those who believe they have a majority in the House of Representatives appear to disregard their right to petition for a vote and override the rulings of the chairman of a committee.

The device of "packing the court" is not a new one in Washington and it looks as if the pressure groups may be able this time to persuade a House majority to "pack" the House Rules Committee so as to permit certain legislation to move more quickly through that body.

In the long run, the precedent will rise to plague the so-called liberals, because the majority may not always be as friendly to some of the causes now being espoused and what is done one year becomes an example for a majority to follow in another year.

"Packing" committees is not a creditable performance but evidently in this at least the pressure groups are to have their way.

Those Were the Days

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Your past is showing if you like to remember about when—

A father welcomed his son to manhood by giving him a gold pocket watch on his 21st birthday. Mother could still bake bread like her own mother used to bake.

People waited hopefully for Houdini, the great magician, to send a message from beyond the grave.

Nobody feared the atom. How could you be afraid of something so small you can't even see it?

Naturalists sternly warned racoon might become extinct if college boys didn't stop turning them into coats.

A woman felt half-dressed unless she had a couple of silver fox furs swinging from her neck.

The Woolworth Tower was the world's tallest office building, and it was seriously debated whether, if they built many more skyscrapers, their weight might cause Manhattan Island to sink into the ocean. Some folks are still hoping this will happen.

Wally Reid was the film idol of the day, and nobody had even heard of Rudolph Valentino. He was learning to be a gardener.

The red caps at a railroad terminal were glad to handle your luggage at a dime a bag.

The local barbershop served as the poor man's club — and the town's main forum of political discussion.

Mothers took for granted their children would get chicken pox, measles and mumps, but prayed they would be spared scarlet fever and diphtheria.

Businessmen worried more about getting appendicitis than heart attacks.

A woman who smoked a cigarette in a restaurant was regarded as a shady lady. Fathers gravely assured their sons that if they smoked cigarettes they certainly would die young of tuberculosis.

A young man could go to a pool hall and keep his social standing, but if he were seen hanging around a bowling alley—well, it started talk.

With only a dollar bill in your wallet, you could impress your best girl by taking her to a movie, stop off later at the ice cream parlor for a couple of big double-dip sodas, spend an hour together sparring on her front porch swing — and still get home before midnight with a dime left in your pocket.

Social critics decried the arrival of network radio, predicting it would ruin the art of conversation in the American home.

The ordinary man knew nothing of television or space missiles. Parents had no problems with bubble gum or fretted about whether it was right or wrong to spank a child. Nobody knew how to spell cholesterol or went on a diet unless he was in a hospital. You could still be fat without feeling guilty. And only the wealthy ever got letters from the income tax collector.

Those were the days!

Move to New Negley Post Office Set Soon

Technicians have begun installation of furniture and equipment at the new Negley Post Office into which the staff may move next weekend, Harry Bricker, postmaster, said today.

Inspection of the nearly completed one-story brick and concrete block structure was made by postal authorities from Cleveland and Cincinnati Wednesday.

Bricker said the transfer from the present post office is slated sometime this month — on a weekend — if not the next weekend.

The new building, built by Edward Powers under contractor William McCowin, measures 26 by 28 feet inside and will have automatic heating and air conditioning and all new equipment. It is located on the east side of Commerce St. about 150 feet south of the present post office.

The staff includes John Zundel, rural carrier serving 200 families, and two part time employees, Mrs. Bricker and Mrs. Sara Jane McLaughlin.

Banks At Columbiana Report Good Year

COLUMBIANA — Gains in total resources were reported by both village banks at annual stockholders' meetings Wednesday night, when directors and officers at both institutions were re-elected.

The Citizens Savings Bank reported through its president, Paul E. Reeves, that although assets showed a slight increase over the previous year, earnings in 1960 were slightly below 1959 and deposits dropped about one per cent.

Total resources of the bank at the close of business on Dec. 31, 1960, were $5,085,655, up $150,675 over the 1959 figure.

Directors in addition to Reeves are: Willis R. Rupert, Edward

C. Greenmyer and R. C. Diefenbacher, vice presidents; Edwin B. Dillon, cashier and secretary; and Russell J. Barrow, Dr. Paul Conrad, Wick Fry, Dr. Thomas A. King, Randall E. Sigle, A. L. Wells and William H. Yoder. Other officers are: Tracy C. Powell, assistant cashier; Gene A. Dean, assistant cashier and manager of the Leetonia office, and DeErla R. Smith, assistant manager.

MARK KLINGENSMITH, president of the Union Banking Co., reported 1960 was "a healthy, but not spectacular year." He said the bank's total resources rose $155,209 over the previous year to put current resources at a record total of $9,593,013.

Directors re-elected, in addition to Klingensmith, are: Dick Fitzpatrick and Clarence Shontz, vice presidents; Dr. Lee Brookwalter, Dr. C. W. Dewalt, Robert A. Maurer, Harry H. Pierson, Lewis A. Way and Allan T. White.

Other officers are: C. W. Furney, cashier; W. E. Ferrall, secretary and assistant cashier, and Helen L. Eckert, treasurer. Tellers are Margaret Arnold, Wilbur Beck, Marguerite Crawford, Myrtle Crawford, Rosa Harrold, Olive Klingensmith, Ida Magill and Ruth Vaughn.

COLUMBIANA CAMERA CLUB met this week at the Lutheran Church with 33 members and guests present. It was announced that 15 entries among 31 submitted have qualified for competition in the "slide of the year" contest.

The program featured color slides of Hawaii, shown by Dr. C. W. Dewalt. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young.

Mayor E. L. Calvin attended a meeting Thursday night in East Liverpool of the Columbiana County Mayors' Association when a county civil defense program was discussed.

Country Club Members Will Meet Monday

The annual meeting of the membership of the Salem Country Club will be held in Room 203 on the second floor of the Farmers National Bank building Monday at 8 p.m., Mrs. Ethel Rogers, secretary, announces.

Three trustees will be elected for three-year terms and the audit report will be presented.

Reports of committees on the operation of the club during 1960 also will be given.

Junior Garden Clubs Meet

The Junior Garden Clubs of the Salem Garden Club met recently for sessions under the guidance of Mrs. V. C. Hart, chairman, Mrs. George Perrault and Mrs. George Jones, co-chairmen.

The JGC pledge opened the meetings. Each child planted cactus plant seeds to be judged next fall.

Mrs. J. J. Hiegel, conservation chairman, gave an informative talk on "Conservation of Our Wild Flowers," naming flowers on the conservation list.

The children were shown two simple house plants they could grow for their homes, using a carrot top and a pineapple top.

Tips were given on the care of poinsettia plants, evergreens and bulbs which rise with the frost. They also were told how to look for gardening tips in the newspapers and magazines, and each student was asked to bring some clippings of these hints hereafter to the club meetings.

Movies on birds and animals will be shown at the February meetings, when instruction will be given on forcing branches. Assisting the chairmen will be Mrs. Jack Rance and Mrs. Francis Skowran.

are pleased to present a special
Centennial Publication:

The American Civil War

Ohioans first read news of the great battles in their local newspapers. It seems fitting, then that the first Ohio Centennial Publication of the American Civil War be brought to you in newspaper form. This 32-page tabloid size edition will be important to both students and historians. The thoughtful narrative is by Howard Preston, award winning Plain Dealer writer and past president of the Cleveland Civil War Round Table. It takes you quickly through the four bloody years from Fort Sumter to Appomattox, when the Union was torn apart and again made whole. It is illustrated with 70 memorable photographs from the Western Reserve Historical Society and the Plain Dealer collection. You will learn about the two dozen Ohioans who attained rank of Major General in the Union forces. You will learn why the American Civil War has deserved a century of study by military historians for its many "firsts". You'll actually see pictures of the first balloon used for reconnaissance in warfare. You'll see an excellent picture of the battle between the Monitor and Merrimac.

The publication also includes a unique battleground map that enables the reader to quickly locate the locale of each conflict as the text is read.

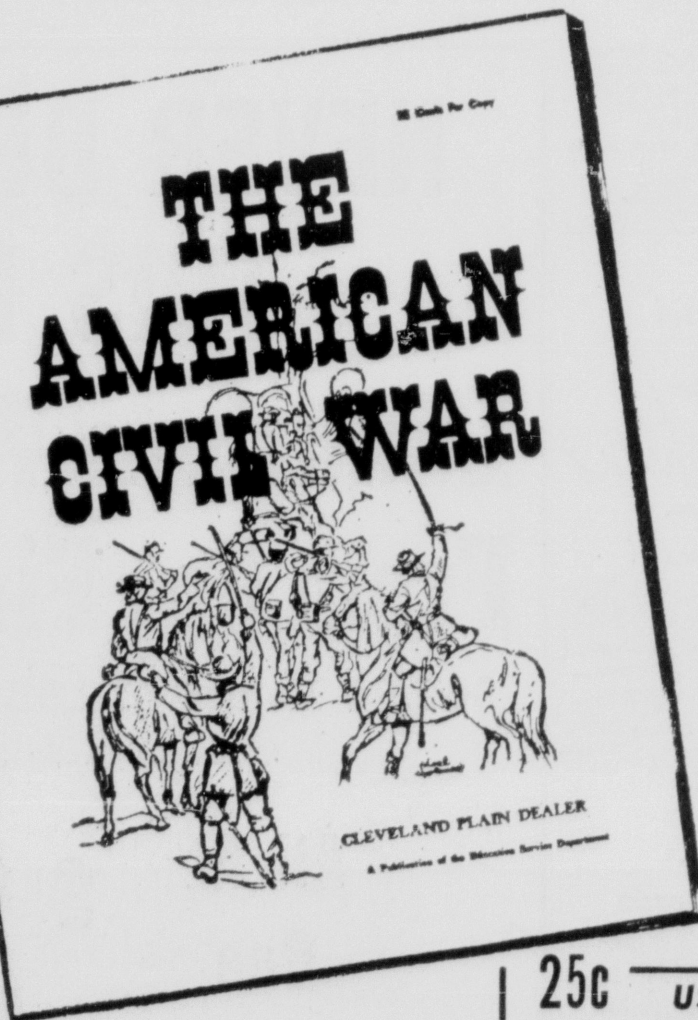

In the thousands of words written on the American Civil War, we believe you will find this tabloid unique in the information it gives on the role the STATE OF OHIO played in this historic struggle.

Miss Carol Keagy Becomes Bride of Paul R. Sevenich

Paul Robert Sevenich and his bride, the former Carol Jean Keagy, are residing at 169 Wal- nut St., Leetonia, following their marriage Dec. 27 in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Rev. W. F. Braun officiated at the double ring ceremony, before the altar which was banked with poinsettias.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Keagy of RD 5, Salem, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Sevenich of Leetonia.

Margaret Kuniewicz was organ- ist, with Lawrence Riles as solo- ist.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of silk brocade. The scalloped neckline and bracelet length sleeves were edged with seed pearls. The bou- fiant skirt featured a back bow at the waistline, ending in a chapel train. Her French illusion veil was attached to a Queen's crown. Cryst- al rosary beads, a gift of the bridegroom, were entwined in the bridal bouquet of white carnations and orchids. She was given in mar- riage by her father.

Ballerina-length gowns of velvet were worn by the bride's attend- ants. The maid of honor Miss Mary Less, appeared in a white frock, and carried a bouquet of red car- nations.

The bridesmaids, Misses Mary Woods and Patty Huffnagle, car- ried arrangements of white carna- tions in contrast with their red gowns. White feather hats com- pleted their ensembles.

The flower girl, Cindy Huston, wore a white velvet gown and carried a basket of red and white pompons.

Francis Sevenich was best man for his brother. The ushers were Jack Dowd and John Mandish.

Cymbidium orchids complement- ed the bride's mother's dress of red silk brocade, and the bride- groom's mother's Dior blue sheath. One hundred and seventy-five

Parenthood Classes To Begin Jan. 25

Expectant mothers, who have not yet enrolled in the new paren- thood classes, which will begin Jan. 25 at 7 p.m. in the Hannah E. Mullins Nurses Home, may still register by calling the Salem City Health Department.

This is the fifth class for expect- ant mothers to be sponsored by the Nurses Alumnae Association of Salem City Hospital, Salem City Health Department and the Wom- en's Auxiliary of Salem Hospitals. Information received in the course of study supplements but does not take the place of that received from the mothers' private physicians.

The following topics will be dis- cussed: "How Your Baby Grows Before Birth and Your Way of Life During Pregnancy," "Diet Needs," "Preparation for Labor and De- livery," "Films supplement nestle lessons and "Needs for Your Child Dur- ing Growth and Development."

Films supplement the lessons which are taught by the staff per- sonnel of the sponsoring groups. The course also includes tours of the hospitals.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Duodenal Ulcer Operation Unsatisfactory

From a desperately unhappy housewife of West Palm Beach, Fla., comes the following:
"My husband and I have not been able to get along together for the past five years. Because we have three lovely children we have tried to keep together until they are old enough to go off to school or college. But it's just no use and I'm convinced it would be better for all around if my husband and I got a divorce since the atmosphere in our home is terrible."

Dr. H. T. Hyman

"The children don't know which way to turn. They go out as much as they can. And when they're home, they're afraid to say a word for fear of hurting the feelings of their mother or their father."

"But here's the difficulty. My husband has a duodenal ulcer. And every time I mention separation or divorce to him, his ulcer kicks up and I have to put him back on his diet and his powders. Don't you think it would be better for him to have the operation and get it over once and for all rather than keep on like this?"

Whoa, dear "housewife." Better hold everything until you have thought your problem through.

FIRST OF ALL, do you think there's a possibility that there may be some causal relationship between your marital difficulties, and your husband's ulcer flare-ups? This consideration is not intended to place blame or take sides. It does raise the important question as to a possible relationship between an organic disease (soma) and an emotional trigger (psychosomatic illness). For, if this possibility exists, removing the ulcer is tackling the problem at the wrong end. It's almost like amputating the foot to get relief from the pain of a bunion.

Secondly, you are misinformed if you think the operation is curative in all instances. Here are some facts about surgery for the patient with duodenal ulcer:
THE IMMEDIATE postoperative mortality is 3.8 per cent under the best auspices. And probably higher nationwide.
In a ten-year follow-up study, Dr. Kiefer of Boston's Lahey Clinic reported 13.4 per cent ulcer recurrences, a weight reduction of more than 10 pounds in 34 per cent, unpleasant postoperative distress in 14 per cent, and inability to resume the usual occupation in 10 per cent.

And in confirmation of the Kiefer findings, Dr. Harold Harvey of New York's Presbyterian Hospital reports an "incidence of 15 to 20 per cent unsatisfactory results" following the classic operation for duodenal ulcer.

Now in view of these less optimistic facts about a surgical ulcer cure, don't you think you and your husband would be wiser to see what can be done to patch up your marital difficulties? You may not know it but you have at your disposal, at little or no cost, the facilities of the Family Service Association sponsored by great industrialists and labor leaders.

To avail yourselves of their wonderful services, write their main office at 215 Park Avenue South, New York City 3, N.Y., and you'll

Every Woman Has Dreamed of It . . . Now It's Here!

... a dream come true for every woman who has fidgeted and worried under a dryer as part of a valuable day slipped by.

The 4 minute hair dryer has revolutionized the beauty business.

Mrs. Frank Mason, pictured above, was amazed at the results, her coiffure time was 35 minutes which included shampoo, setting time, drying and comb-out.

The secret! . . . Warm air dries the curl from the inside out, just the opposite of the present practice.

- No hot air blowing on the scalp
- Hair has more sheen, more spring and more lasting curl.

Houston Derails Second-Ranked Bradley Cagers, 60-59

Braves' 18-Game Win Streak Halted

Notre Dame Downs St. Francis;
St. Louis Rips North Texas State

Texas, sub, is big, bold, brash and — to Bradley's basketball Braves — just plain bad.

For the second time in two seasons, the University of Houston has derailed one of Bradley's unbeaten streaks. Thursday night, it was a 60-59 upset that snapped the Braves' nation-leading major college winning string at 18. Bradley had started the new one, which carried through the National Invitation Tournament championship and 12 games this season, after having a 15-game streak broken by the same big, bold, brash and bad Houston on Feb. 22 last year.

It was an Illinois boy — hailing from Wood River about 150 miles south of Bradley's Peoria campus — who applied the string-snapper in the intersectional game at Houston.

Jim Lemmon, a 6-2 senior, sank a free throw with 35 seconds left to close out the victory over the nation's No. 2 team and one of five major unbeaten clubs in the country. The two trips to Houston have cost the Braves a 35-game streak.

The Braves remain the Missouri Valley Conference leader and favorite since Houston (now 8-5) pulled out of the league this year, but other MVC clubs showed there are other pitfalls ahead.

Reawakening Cincinnati (10-3) survived a shower of debris from

Monti Leads In San Diego Open

Goes Five Under On First Round

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Eric Monti of Los Angeles, who was seven strokes off the pace a year ago, led the field into the second round of the $20,000 San Diego golf tournament today.

The 41-year-old teaching professional had a brilliant first round 66, five-under-par. But he was only one stroke ahead of his nearest rival as play was resumed over the par 35-36-71 Mission Valley County Club course.

In a three-way tie for second place at 67 were Gary Players of South Africa, who missed a $10,000 hole-in-one prize by 10 inches Thursday; Jerry Barber, 135-pound veteran from Los Angeles, and Marty Furgol, another old-timer who won the tournament in 1959.

Just two shots behind Monti were six threats—Bob Goaly, the Los Angeles Open winner last Monday; ex-National PGA champion Lionel Hebert; Bo Winingier, Don January, Frank Boynton and Darrell Hickock.

Best known name in the 69-bracket was Arnold Palmer, who rebounded from his sad 12-stroke blowup on one hole in the Los Angeles Open that sent him out of play after two rounds. Palmer shot a 34-35 to tie Billy Casper Jr., and eight others in the San Diego event.

Some of the other better known pros faced rougher going.

Mike Souchak, the 1960 San Diego winner, was tied at 72, with Art Wall Jr., and Dow Finsterwald and others.

Prospect, Buckeye, McKinley Capture Grade School Tilts

Prospect downed defending champion Reilly, 26-12, Buckeye topped St. Paul, 22-8, and McKinley dumped Fourth Street, 22-12, in opening games in the Mickey McGuire League this week.

Defending champ Reilly fell under an 18 point spurge by Prospect's Chuck Montgomery. Prospect held quarter leads of 8-2, 16-2 and 20-8 in taking the win.

Reilly failed to tally a marker in the second stanza after chalking up just two in the initial period.

Everett and Biller paced Reilly with four points each.

Buckeye shook a 5-4 St. Paul first period margin in coping its initial tilt, Buckeye led at the half, 12-7, and then threw a stonewall defense up to St. Paul, who garnered one point in the second half.

Tim Tullis featured for Buckeye with eight markers. Tolson tossed in five markers for St. Paul.

After a show start McKinley found the range and captured its win over Fourth Street with quarter scores of 4-2, 13-6 and 15-10.

Steve Pappic tallied seven markers for Fourth Street and Wagner and Hackett totaled six apiece for McKinley.

Robert Miller, physical education director at the Senior High School, is director of the Mickey McGuire League.

Coaches for the six teams are as follows: Mike Guappone, Fourth Street; Ronald Guchemann, Buckeye; Vince Crawford, McKinley; Paul Scullion, St. Paul; Frank Hoopes, Prospect, and Jim Gow Reilly.

Nicholson, Daugherty In Hot Scoring Duel

Herron's Ace Holds Edge

In addition to the torrid three-team race for first place in the Salem Class A basketball 10 o.p., there is still an interesting two-man duel going on for league scoring honors.

Defending scoring champion, Dean Nicholson of Herron Transfer regained the lead this week, despite the fact that his nearest rival and last week's leader, Ed Daugherty of Beall Battery & Electric, scorched the nets for 30 points in the only contest his team played.

NICHOLSON TOOK over the lead by pouring in 48 markers in two tilts. Nicholson's average for eight games is 22.9 while Daugherty is moving along at a 21.1 clip. The Herron's star has a total of 183 markers compared to 169 for Beall's ace.

Both Herron's and Beall's have just one game remaining this round. Daugherty has a 14-point deficit to make up.

Another threat for the scoring title, Butch Platt of Salem Stamping, is now out of the running. He collected 137 points in seven games before leaving for the Army.

GOING INTO the final week of first round play, the three teams deadlocked for the Class A lead are Beall's, Herron's and Old Dutch. Each is carrying a 7-1 record.

All three outfits can't remain tied for the crown because Beall's

Only 1,600 Available to Public

Ducats Scarce For State Cage Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A scramble by the general public for Ohio high school state basketball tournament tickets was assured today.

W. J. McConnell, scholastic commissioner, said today only 1,600 "season" ducats would be available to the public for the March 24-25 classic in Ohio State's 13,500-seat arena.

McConnell mailed ticket application forms today to 3,184 head coaches, school administrators, tournament managers, etc., who are on the preferred list.

He also set up rigid rules, six of them, for the general public. After declaring that only season tickets, good for all four sessions, would be sold, McConnell said mail orders only would be honored.

The price has been boosted, for the first time in about 15 years. The 1961 tickets will cost $8 for the full route as compared with $6 last year—a hike of 50 cents per session.

Two Class A games will be played the afternoon of Friday March 24, and two Class AA contests that evening. The Class A finals are Saturday afternoon, March 25, with the Class AA finals at night.

Here are the six rules for the general public as laid down by McConnell:

1. No consideration will be given orders postmarked prior to Feb. 11.

2. No consideration will be given orders for more than two 2: season tickets in any one envelope.

3. No consideration will be given orders for anything other than season tickets.

4. The envelope must be addressed to "Ohio High School Athletic Association, 4161 N. High St., Columbus 14, Ohio," and be plainly marked on the address side "Season Ticket Order," and include payment in full for tickets ordered at the rate of $8 for each season ticket, and also a self-addressed, four-cent stamped return envelope.

5. The OHSAA reserves the right to check the mailing of all ticket orders and act on its findings.

6. Ticket orders drawn which do not follow the above instructions will not be filled.

McConnell said only checks or money orders—no cash—would be accepted, and that they should be made payable to the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

The drawing for the lucky winners will be made at the association's office at 2 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 22. McConnell said the demand would be many times greater than the supply.

Three Youngsters Sign Cleveland Having Contract Troubles With Jim Perry

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Perry, ace of the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff last season, is having contract troubles.

He said at his home in North Carolina Thursday night that he would bring his contract—unsigned—when he comes to Cleveland to be honored as the Indians' "Man of the Year" at the Cleveland baseball writers' Ribs and Roast show Jan. 23.

He insisted, however, that he wouldn't become a holdout "or anything like that."

"I just want to sit down and talk it over with someone," said the lanky hurler. "Now that Frank Lane is gone, who do I see?"

Walter (Hoot) Evers, the Indians' farm chief, has been given the added responsibility of dealing with unsigned players in the absence of a general manager.

Lane resigned as general manager to accept a similar position with the Kansas City Athletics.

Perry, given a sizable salary boost last year after winning 12 games as a rookie in 1959, is being offered another increase but not as large as he expected.

"Actually, we're not too far apart," the 24-year-old right-hander said.

It's Ravens' 'Turn' to Win Saturday

Hot and Cold Ravenna Team Has Score to Settle at Salem

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
The Ravenna Ravens, who have broken even in eight games this season, will furnish the opposition for the Quakers Saturday night in the Salem Senior High gym.

The Quakers will be playing their second game in two nights as Coach John Cabas' crew will be in Warren tonight looking for victory number six in eight starts against the Black Panthers.

Ravenna opened its season by dumping Mantua Crestwood, 76-58. The Ravens gave unbeaten Akron East a real battle before bowing 60-58. Southeast was a 50-47 victim but the Ravens were then upset 42-40 by Windham.

IN ONE OF THEIR better games of the season, the Ravens toppled the Alliance Aviators lone conquerors of East Liverpool, 59-54. Then in its last three games, Ravenna lost to Kent Roosevelt, 50-43, beat Tallmadge, 54-47, and lost to rugged Newton Falls 73-61.

Oddly enough, the Ravens have won and lost alternate games this season. If Ravenna is to keep this streak going, they must defeat the Quakers on Saturday. It's their "turn" to win.

When Ravenna picked up some fine basketball prospects after a consolidation with Ravenna Twp. last year, it looked like the Ravens would have their best cage squad in several seasons.

However, in the Kent Roosevelt game, Gawine Gauding, 6-2 1/2 senior who had been averaging 14.6 points in the Ravens' first six tilts, suffered a broken arm and dislocated a shoulder. He is out of the lineup for the season. Gauding also had a charging foul called on him on the disastrous play.

He had been a regular at Ravenna Twp. for three seasons and had been named to the All-Portage County team.

ALTHOUGH THE RAVENS have blown hot and cold all season long, they have had one consistent performer. He is Jim Cipriano, 6-1 1/2 senior forward.

Cipriano possesses one of the best hook shots in the district and has also been deadly at the foul line. Against Akron East he fired a perfect 16 for 16 from the foul line and against Newton Falls he hit 10 of 11 charity tosses. Cipriano failed to tally a goal against Akron East but his 16 fouls made him high point man for the game.

Cipriano is averaging just under 20 points per contest.

The other starting forward for Ravenna is Bruce Parry, 5-10 senior. The guards are Rick Montecalvo, 6-0 junior and a good outside shot; and Jim Cipriano, 5-9 junior. The Cipriano boys are cousins.

AFTER GAUDING'S injury, Bob Allen, 6-1 1/2 was in line for the starting job but he broke his hand during Christmas vacation. Larry Hartman, 6-0 senior, has taken over as starting center.

First line subs are little Russell Wilmington, a guard and Dave Griffith, 6-0 1/2 junior forward who is a fair rebounder.

In recent years, about all the Quakers have had to do to defeat Ravenna has been to show up. The Ravens haven't come within 20 points of the Quakers in the last five years.

In fact, Ravenna has managed just one victory over Salem, a 60-48 decision in 1953, since John Cabas started coaching here in 1950.

Officials for the game here Saturday will be LaVerne Haidet of Alliance and Charles Buttermore of Cuyahoga Falls. The reserve tilt is slated to get underway at 7 p.m.

CHURCH CAGERS TO MEET
A meeting of representatives from prospective teams in the Salem Church Basketball League will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the parlor of the Memorial Building.

Fans Pelt Court As Cincy Wins

Wooster Surprises Ohio Wesleyan

By The Associated Press
The upset-minded Cincinnati Bearcats had a mind to do just that Thursday night.

And when you can connect on every other shot from the floor, for a blistering 51.6 per cent, it's not too hard to accomplish.

So the Bearcats found out as they routed Wichita 80-57 for their second Missouri Valley Conference victory in four starts.

The 'Cats had the Shockers screaming me-ow-w-w-ch by half-time when they led 42-21.

But the real screams came from the fans who started pelting the court with debris when Gene Wiley, Wichita's 6-10 star, was injured early in the second half and had to leave the game.

Two warnings by officials failed to stop the boisterousness. It wasn't until Wichita coach Ralph Miller announced that the game would be forfeited if order was not restored that the crowd quieted down.

There were three other loop tilts involving Ohio game quintets. Wooster edged Ohio Wesleyan 67-64 and Capital did likewise with Kenyon 62-58 in Ohio Conference play. Case Tech, meanwhile, was presenting its coach, Phillip (Nip) Heim, with his 100th victory since coming to the school in 1948, in ripping past Thiel 85-63 in a Presidents' Conference game.

In nonleague action, Oberlin upped its record to 5-3 with an 82-53 shellacking of Allegheny (Pa.).

Wooster, down by seven points at halftime, rallied and tied the score 46-all with 12 minutes to play. Reggie Minton, who collected 25 points, then helped the Scots erase a see-saw fight for the lead and hand Ohio Wesleyan only its second conference defeat against eight wins.

Capital, deadlocked with Kenyon 32-all at intermission, had to rely on foul shooting to claim its fourth conference triumph in six outings. Capital's Skip Mullaney made good on five of six foul shots in the closing minutes to ice the victory.

Bliss Volleyballers Pull Big Upset Over Kiwanis Club

Kiwanis suffered its second loss of the season last night when they were upset 13-11 by the Bliss Co. (10-11) in the Adult Volleyball League at the Memorial Building.

The loss drops Kiwanis into a first place tie with the Post Office, who both have identical 22-2 records.

Kiwanis captured the final two games by scores of 15-3 and 15-3 against Bliss.

In other loop action the Hunt Plungers (9-15) took two from the Electric Furnace Engineers (7-17) by scores of 15-7 and 11-9 after the Engineers grabbed the first tilt.

The schedule for next week is as follows:

Monday
5:30, Eljer vs Arndt Insurance
6:15, Deming vs Hunt Quick As Wink
7, Bayless Gas vs Bliss

Wednesday
5:30, Hunt Quick As Wink vs Kiwanis
6:15, Arndt Insurance vs Deming
7, Hunt Plungers vs Bayless Gas

Thursday
5:30, Salem Concrete JCs vs Electric Furnace Office
6:15, Post Office vs Eljer
7, Bliss vs Electric Furnace Engineering

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a working girl, 22, and have been supporting myself since I was 17. After graduation from high school I went to business school at night and now I hold a good position. I live at home and pay one-third of my salary for room and board.

I have always been well behaved and have never been in any trouble whatever. The problem is my father is so strict that I'm beginning to hate him. I got in last Saturday night (after a date) at 1 a.m. He greeted me at the front door in his bathrobe, wild with rage.

He ranted and raved in front of the fellow, grabbed my arm and shook me as if I were a small child. He said from now on if I'm not in the house by midnight he will bolt both doors from the inside. What is your advice?—HUMILIATED.

Dear Humiliated: A girl 22 should be able to stay out until 1 a.m. without interference. Tell your father you expect him to treat you as an adult from now on. If he locks you out of the house go to the YWCA for good.

Learned Too Late

Dear Ann: The letter from the man who didn't know whether to marry the young widow with the six active children prompts me to write my first letter to a newspaper.

I am a 65-year-old bachelor. When I was in my late 30s I met a lovely lady who was the mother of two teen-age girls. We fell in love and went together for 3½ years. We broke up because I was unwilling to assume responsibility for her children. The following year she married someone else.

Three years later the daughters I was afraid to help rear were married and on their own.

Now I'm a lonely old man who is paying a terrible price for his lack of faith and courage. I hope the bachelor who wrote to you has better sense than I had. I know now you get out of life exactly what you're willing to put into it. The fearful and faint-hearted always lose. — ALONE.

Dear Alone: You say you're 65? How about making friends with a woman in her 50s? Many women who are also alone would welcome a companion. Remember, "the faint-hearted and fearful always lose."

Confidentially

TO BIG QUESTION: Why don't you spend less time trying to learn the tricks of trade and concentrate on learning the trade? Your "clever" shortcuts have just about cut you out of your job.

TO SHOULD I TELL? Not until you're asked. But don't stand on one foot waiting.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamp, self-addressed envelope.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO There's a new campaign sticker on auto bumpers in town. It reads: "Unemployment—Made In Japan."

It's apart of a drive by some folks who like to eat—not sumpuously, just regularly. There's a good chance that they might not. They're among the 700,000 "electronic" workers made jobless by imports from Japan. The stickers are part of a "Buy American" campaign launched recently by Frank Darling, leader of the electrical brotherhood's Local 1031.

This is a huge local which covers the shops which "feed" the inner parts and gadgets to almost 85 per cent of the radio and television industry.

FOR MONTHS NOW, Darling has watched his membership being slashed from 47,000 to 23,000 by the razor-edged sales policies of Japanese competitors.

He has been losing his people at the rate of more than 1,000 a month—9,000 in eight months, to be exact.

EVERY MEMBER lost means a job permanently wiped out. Every vanishing American job means vanishing sales and profits for the U.S. electronics industry.

Furthermore, of those who still are lucky enough to hold on, thousands are working a four-day week. Because this is the story of a score of U.S. industries, I checked it out in detail. In the first six months of '60 Japan sold $38.7 million worth of electrical and electronics equipment in our country.

Compare this with $22.1 million means that we took half of Japan's total production in this field. The Nipponese, for example, sent us 69 per cent more radio receivers in the first half of last year than they did in the same six months of the previous year. Radio phonographs were up 92 per cent! Sound recorders skyrocketed 294 per cent. So it went with radio and T speakers, condensers, receiving tubes and transistors.

THE MERCHANTS operating in Japan pay a 10½ per cent tax on each TV set they sell here. But they slap a 25 per cent tax on every U.S.-made set sold in Japan.

Of course, everybody understands that in the tense international-political-economic warfare sweeping the world, it would not be right to be beastly to Nippon. In fact, Darling and his colleagues winned and dined a Japanese labor delegation in Chicago last year. He took them through the most efficient factories there and tried to plant in the minds of the Nipponese union chiefs the urgency for raising wages back home.

If they could increase the Japanese workers' take-home pay and insist on pension and welfare payment to their people, perhaps the oriental production cost would rise a little. So would their prices. Then the competitive edge would not be so broad.

The Japanese ate, drank and were merry. They did very little about anything back home. SO DARLING worked up his campaign. He conferred with depression areas chief Sen. Paul Douglas. Darling suggested that a law be passed permitting low or duty-free imports to be sold here only by foreign manufacturers who paid their people a minimum wage of a dollar an hour.

Thus there would be no tariff wall. We would actually be raising the wages of foreign slave-shop workers. Thus, our foreign competitors could run their shops in two sections—one for the U.S. market at decent wages. The other at a wage meager enough to make sales in low-income land and under-developed lands. Now how could the Soviet propagandists attack us as economic imperialists for that?

To promote his "Buy American" campaign, Darling plans to run mass rallies all over Chicago. He will organize "Unemployment Squads" to make the city rounds and tell their story. That story is "Unemployment—Made in Japan." To lend a helping hand to others is fine, says Darling. But what happens when that hand grows weak? Who will help whom then?

Before Bedloe's Island in New York harbor became the location of the Statue of Liberty and was renamed Liberty Island, it was the site of a pesthouse, a quarantine station, a military prison, a gallows and a dump.

OHIO MOTORISTS: Good News About Auto Insurance

New Good Driver Discount Plan

with two remarkable new benefits for good drivers who qualify

1. New Good Driver Discount—Allstate, long famous for low rates, now offers a new merit-rating plan that enables good drivers to earn lower rates—and with these features. Allstate's plan, unlike most other plans, carries no penalty for traffic violations. Also, accidents which entitle you to settlements under your collision or medical payments coverages do not cause your premium to be increased. The only accidents which raise your rates are those which require payment of $50 or more to "the other guy" under your liability coverage.
2. New Written Guarantee—Now you are assured that, after your liability insurance has been in force for 90 days, it will not and cannot be cancelled by us for a period up to 5 years, even if you are unlucky enough to have one or more accidents, except for certain conditions and irresponsible acts described below.

These are the only conditions under which Allstate's exclusive guarantee of noncancellation of auto liability insurance does not apply or can be withdrawn:

If the policyholder or any member of his household is convicted or forfeits bail for: driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs; hit-and-run driving, vehicular homicide, car theft, driving while license is suspended or revoked; or making false statements in driver's license application. If the insured makes false statements in his insurance application, or fails to assist the company in defending him against another person's liability claim. If the policyholder fails to pay the premium when due, or ceases to reside or register his car in Ohio.

This new plan applies only to individually owned private passenger cars. It is not available to Assigned Risks.

The cost of this insurance depends on the accident history of those insured under the policy and the rates in effect at the time the premium is computed at each renewal.
